To Begin Dec. 15

Initial moving of personnel, numbering about 100, and office equipment is slated to get underway about Dec. 15 with the completion date set for Dec. 31.

A new building of 20,000 square feet will be constructed adjoining the existing Columbiana manufacturing plant on W. Park St., one of three Russell operations in Ohio. The two other plants are at Camoridge and Pandora.

Army Blasted in Game Transfer

NAACP Behind Move, Says Rep. Hebert

NEW ORLEANS (P) — Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D-La) today said the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People was behind the transfer of the Army-Tulane football game from New Orleans to West Point.

He blasted the Army as "a full partner in the campaign against the South."

The game, scheduled for Nov. 16 and the target of criticism by a Pennsylvania congressman, was transferred Monday. Secretary of the Army Wilber F. Brucker told Hebert the transfer was agreed upon by both schools. Brucker said Louisiana's segregation law was the reason.

Hebert, however, said there was nothing different now from the scheduled. He said he personally warned the Army that the NACP would try to have the site changed.

"Unfortunately," he said, "our friends at Tulane have rather compromised the issue by agree- Higley Speaks ing to transfer the game."

One Tulane spokesman said the transfer might mean a revenue At Legion's loss as high as $50,000 for Tulane.

Ohio Turnpike Profits Reported To Be $110,242

CLEVELAND (A) - The Ohio Turnpike Commission said Monday its profit for the month of August from operating six restaurants on the eastern end of the road was $110,242:

If the restaurants had still been operated by the Olympic Commissary Co. of Chicago, whose contract was cancelled earlier this year, the commission would have netted only $66,453.

However, Turnpike Chairman James W. Shocknessy still wants to turn the restaurants over to another concessionaire - preferably a nationally known firm.

A commission spokesman pointed out that August is the Turnpike's busiest month, and restaurant profits are high as well taurant operation into the winter new hearings on the activities of James R. Hail, the Champs

Salem citizens' hearts quickened and chests swelled with justifiable pride when the weekend brought news of the American Legion Quaker City band's accomplishment of winning the national championship at Atlantic City.

Although the bandsmen have been Ohio Legion champions four consecutive years and runnersup for national honors in 1954 and '55, they were content with nothing short of first place in the nation. Now they have it and well-earned it is. Behind the victory lie weeks and months of rehearsals and drills and other coordinattd factors. In harmony as musicians, the marching band also has exemplified an esprit de corps that only to themselves but to their community. Salem is proud of her American Legion Quaker City Band. Its members are the best ambassadors of good will that any community could have. Today's "welcome home" ceremonies are held in gratitude for and in admiration of the finest band in the United States.

Lovable Jim

The New York City Board of Education has no doubt let itself in for a good bit of criticism by dropping "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" from its textbook lists. Any effort that can be construed as an effort to interfere with the dissemination of the world's great literature is doomed to cries of "book burning," and justifably so.

School offcals, denyng racal protests prompted the decision, said the story is not really a textbook. If that is the case, they will be hard put to justify the continued inclusion in the textbook list of other great works of literature.

If, however, the move actually was in response to racial considerations, there are any number of other selections which should be stricken. To name but a few, the Bible contains some uncomplimentary references to gentiles; both Dickens and Shakespeare drew disparaging pictures of Jews; "Robin Hood" stuck pins in the rich and powerful; Plato took a pretty sneering attitude toward the common

To remove such characters or ideas from the context of the works in which they appear or the times and places in which they were written reveals total ignorance of their real meaning and a too-narrow sense of values.

The truth is, Mark Twain painted a most sympathetic, warm and loving portrait of Huck Finn's friend, Jim. The contemptible characters in the story are whites.

Unwilling Retirers, Arise!

The active, alert, able-bodied group of workers that sadly approaches after-65 idleness will be happy to note a change in retirement attitudes may be in the making. Two government experts spoke out last week in favor of doing away with "discrimination" against employes who have reached 65. Undersecretary of Labor James. T. O'Connell declared in Cleveland that older people will have to play larger role in the nation's economy as modern technoogy swells the need for more and better trained workers.

Clark Tibbitts, chairman of the committee on aging in the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, said in Cincinnati forced retirement is unfair to the indvidual, making it hard for hm to find a reason for existence in a society that demands one.

It is significant both men emphasized the need for providing education opportunities for older people. That flouts the argument against teaching old dogs new tricks, an old saw that long ago should have been forced into retirement.

A Big Man in Defeat

To most voters under 25 years of age the name, Alfred Mossman Landon, has little meaning. Perhaps many older citizens of this country have forgatten the man but 21 years ago he was the genial fellow with a big grin, glasses and a big "sunflower" in his lapel who was going up and down the country in presidential combat.

It was one of the toughest battles ever undertaken by a presidential nominee. He was pitted against the popular incumbent of the White House, Franklin Delano Roosevelt and Mr. Landon took an unmerciful drubbing at the polls. He captured only Maine and Vermont but he neither lost his sense of balance nor became engulfed in bitterness. He went on to many useful duties, never again attempting to capture the public eye.

This month he was 70. In a birthday interview he told newsmen, "I never felt better in my life. Come around again in 30 years from now. I'll still be here."

To Mr. Landon, congratulations and the hope that his prediction will come true.

People now are taking their pick of edible things-right out of their own gardens.

A simple yet common cause is bleeding from somewhere in the body. If a person loses more blood than can be reformed, anemia develops. If the bleeding is sudden and profuse the difficulty can be remedied promptly by stopped the hemorrhage and giving a blood transfusion.

When the bleeding is slow it is necessary to find where the bleeding comes from and to stop it, if possible. If the anemia is severe, transfusions or iron preparations may be needed.

Another kind of anemia is fairly frequent in women between 30-50. The cause of this anemia is a deficiency of iron. It probably results from defective diet and poor absorption due to disturbances of the stomach and intestines. This causes a feeling of weakness.

Ike and Inflation

President, Eisenhower calls on the public to show restraint in buying unnecessary things and help the war on inflation. He will get the same response he gets when calling for luck in a sand trap. Mr. and Mrs. America have been on a high-rolling binge so long it's chronic.

They love it and won't even discuss swearing off. They are asking for the large non-economy sized package of trouble.

"THE SKY'S THE LIMIT," knocked "Use your head" out of the picture years ago. "Stop, Look And Listen," for centuries an American maxim is blocked out by neon light signs reading "Away We Go," "It's Only Money" and "Gangway For Faster Moving Spenders."

"THINK." It cramps Joe Public's style and depresses the picnickers. "Can we afford it?" may lose you your social status and make you a stodgy rectionup here?" can mean a loss of face going over

CAPITOL CHANGES - The black and white outlines indicate the proposed extensions of both the east and west "fronts" of the central part of the Capitol between the House and Senate wings. The east front, facing parking area, would be extended 321/2 feet to maintain its present profile. Portions of the west front would be moved outward to make a flush line for most of the central portion. The Conkle. proposed "face lifting" would be part of a 110-million-dollar program involving Capitol Hill changes. Patrolman Loses In Russian Roulette

CLEVELAND (P) - Patrolman Howard Rickert, 36, thought his chances were 50-50 if he played Russian roulette with three shells in a six-shot police revolver. He died early today of a bullet wound in the head.

His partner, Patrolman George Trammel, said Rickert appeared in good humor when he entered the roll-call room at the police garage Monday night. "Let's play Russian roulette," said Rickert.

Neither Trammel nor two ambulance men eating lunch at a table paid much attention to the

Besides this stand-by emergency role, what a job the battery has to shoulder! The average car today has 20 light bulbs, some models have as many as 38, to say nothing of those power-eaters, the radio, horn and starter.

Looking after your battery is a simple matter of remembering, and it can double your battery's life. Usually, water needs to be added about once a month, but if the battery needs water too often, then charging is too high. If it's only one cell that constantly needs extra water, a leak is the problem.

It's usually pretty obvious why a battery runs down; you've been driving only at night, or using the radio and heater too much. But it can come from hidden thing, too, like forgetting
